Revised 10/2008

Recycling in Loudoun County

Recycling Requirements

State law requires jurisdictions to divert a minimum of 25% of the solid waste they generate for recycling. In order to achieve the 25% recycling rate, County Ordinance requires residents and businesses to recycle.

Residents must recycle their newspapers, magazines, cardboard, paperboard, glass bottles and jars, metal and aluminum cans, plastic bottles, and yard waste (i.e. grass clippings, leaves, and brush).

Businesses must recycle at least one Principal Recyclable Material (PRM) generated in the greatest quantity. PRMs include paper, metals, plastics, glass, yard waste, wood, and textiles.

Additionally, the "major" solid waste collectors operating in the County are required to provide recycling collection service.

Collection and Drop-Off Services

Curbside recycling services are provided by the town governments, homeowners associations, or through private subscription with waste removal companies.

Recycling Dropoff Centers are located throughout the County where residents and businesses may bring their bottles, cans, and paper for recycling.

Where Does It All Go?

The bottles, cans and paper collected for recycling are taken to a material recovery facility to be sorted by material type (aluminum cans, steel cans, glass bottles, plastic bottles, newspaper, etc). Manufacturers buy the sorted recyclables and use them as raw materials to make new products.

Recycling Is Important!

Recycling preserves our environment, saves money and energy, and turns recyclable materials into products we use daily.
